Primary Categories
Significant Community Problems/Concerns
Terre Haute, Indiana DMA

Crime - The issue of crime and achieving a safer environment with regard to ones personal safety, home safety, work environment and travels remains one of our communities priorities and concerns.

Education - Recent community ascertainments have identified numerous education related topics as issues of substantial and on-going concern within the Terre Haute DMA. High school drop-out rates, funding and physical facilities, grade point indexes, percentage of high school students going onto college, and continuing adult education and re-training to preserve a "qualified workforce" pool of employable workers.

The Economy/Jobs Growth - This encompasses many varied areas of interest and concern. From the basic needs of families to maintain or attain a particular standard of living to issues more related to community/business economic issues such as business expansion, new industries, availability of jobs and existing tax rates.

Public Safety & Health - This category is one that overlaps other areas, but that is identified as a stand alone issue as well by residents in the Wabash Valley. This includes the very personal concerns of individuals relevant to their personal health, safety, work and environment. With sub-issues such as social safety, continuing safe education programs and overall comfort levels at home, work, and play.

Substance Abuse - This issue of concern is certainly self-explanatory given today's national and local environment relative to many types of abuse. It addresses issues ranging from over consumption of alcohol to drug dependency and all the other problems and concerns that as a result affect both individuals and the community as a whole.

Government/Legislative Issues - Most of our public is effected either directly or indirectly by two state governments (Illinois and Indiana) and many different city or local governmental agencies and policies. (Laws, taxes, regulations, elections, police and fire protection to name only a few).

Social Services - This particular area involves the support structure within the community to provide many different types of social services for people in all economic groupings.

Minority Representation - A community issue that addresses efforts to assure that the minority composition within our community has equal and fair representation in all areas of living and working within the community, as reflected by the community at large.

Community Appearance - This category involves the efforts made by city & county officials & organizations to create a cleaner, healthier, and more attractive environment. Deals with efforts at removal & control of litter, efforts to remove offensive odors from the air (a real problem in Vigo County) and overall efforts to create a more positive attitude about the physical world in which we live.

Transportation - This particular area concerns the efforts to improve transportation around the city. It might include efforts to update our city bus service, installation of traffic lights or stop signs to make intersections safer, remodeling of streets around the city, etc...

Development of Business Friendly Environment - This would include all efforts by community leaders & citizens to sell our city & surrounding area to interested corporations/businesses. Activities of the Greater Terre Haute Chamber of Commerce, efforts by Terre Haute City Council to offer Tax abatements, and any other activities that would make our area more appealing to prospective businesses would be included here.

General Information - This category is listed in order to include efforts on behalf of WTHI-TV that address a very specific circumstance which may not be appropriate in a proceeding listing, but one which we believe reflects community awareness or concern or opportunity that may be prevelant in a particular place or time, but not necessarily on an on-going basis.

CBS Television Network - The CBS Television Network provides affiliates quarterly with a listing of issues/concerns that have been addressed during that quarter by the Network.
